

the language learning journal

a structured notebook for serious language learners

What is this journal?

Physical Structure

This is the first premium physical language learning journal on the market focused on structuring your language learning journey! This journal will teach you how to turn language learning into a daily, consistent routine.

Pen and paper is tried and true. We have interviewed seasoned language learners and the one tool they come back to everyday is pen and paper. This journal is physical by design and research backs up our methodology that physically writing down new concepts solidifies understanding. We'll talk about this research in the following pages...

Pen & Paper

Language Learning

With a simple handwritten methodology, you will be able to change your language learning from passive to active. Start studying smarter with efficient and consistent practice. Your language goals are within reach!

In this journal...

1. Why learn a new language?

This section details common misconceptions when it comes to language learning, a helpful overview of the CEFR scale, a realistic timeline for different levels of fluency, and tips to study smarter.

2. French language overview

This section gives a brief overview of French language and culture introducing the learner to fun facts about the language as well as the future growth driven by Africa.

3. The Language Soup© method of language learning

The most important section of this journal. This is where we explain our method for language learning based on our research.

4. Getting started with The Language Learning Journal

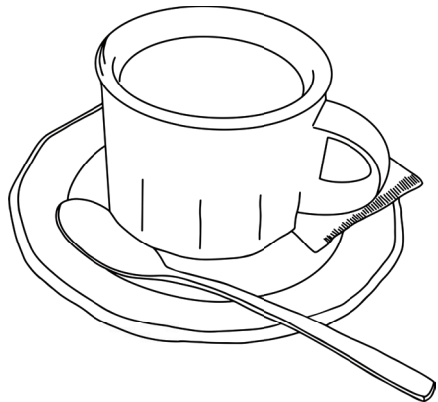

This section goes into extreme detail on how to learn vocabulary, grammar, and speaking as well as improve your listening comprehension and structure your tutoring lessons.

5. Your language learning playground

This last section gives a few grammar “cheat sheets” for French verb conjugations, structured vocabulary pages and journal pages ready for you to fill in and start your language journey!

The Language Soup method of language learning

Our methodology

Weekly schedule

30 minutes daily practice

Monday

Vocabulary Review (5 - 10 minutes)
Listening Comprehension (20 minutes)

Vocabulary Review (5 - 10 minutes)
Grammar Lesson (20 minutes)

Tuesday

Wednesday

Vocabulary Review (5 - 10 minutes)
Tutoring Lesson (30 minutes)

Vocabulary Review (5 - 10 minutes)
Tutoring Homework (20 minutes)

Thursday

Friday

Vocabulary Review (5 - 10 minutes)
Grammar Lesson Review (20 minutes)

Vocabulary Review (5 - 10 minutes)
Listening Comprehension (20 minutes)

Saturday

Sunday

Vocabulary Review (5 - 10 minutes)
Listening Comprehension (20 minutes)

Getting started with the language learning journal

How to learn:

Vocabulary Review

Language learners recommend creating physical flashcards or using a spaced-repetition software. We have found Anki (not sponsored and it's free!) to be a great way to learn vocabulary daily due to their rating system of flashcards. By rating a flashcard from 1 (hard) to 4 (easy) the software automatically creates a schedule making the harder cards more recurring than the daily cards. This is why we start with daily Anki flashcards that should take no longer than 5 - 10 minutes daily to finish your daily limit. We recommend starting with the top 5,000 most used French words using the following method:

1. Download Anki (free version) to your computer or phone.
2. Look up the 5,000 most common French words or words that are important for your French learning journey
3. Write the words in the Vocabulary section in the back of this notebook
4. Create 20 flashcards on Anki with French words and their translations in English and any other languages you speak.
5. Spend 5-10 minutes daily learning your flashcards with Anki
6. Add more vocabulary at your own pace (daily, every few days, once a week, etc.) We recommend starting with a daily limit of 20 and adding 20 flashcards each week and tweaking the pace based on your learning preference

PRO TIPS

- ◇ Use the Anki website on your phone if you find yourself with a few minutes to spare to learn your vocabulary instead of downloading the app
- ◇ Browse public Anki decks in French to see how others are learning
- ◇ Create your own decks to further cement your knowledge
- ◇ Play around with the Anki settings to see what works for you. You can edit how frequently harder cards reappear, how many cards you see in a day and much more.

Your language learning playground

The rest of this journal is a language learning playground for you to enjoy! There are a few grammar cheat sheets to help you wrap your head around verb conjugations, a space to write vocab down before you make your flashcards and empty pages to take notes while you learn!

Vocabulary

[illegible]

Vocabulary

[illegible]